GENERAL NEWS.

The Steamer Bahama Lost off the Atlantic Coast.

MRS. SCOVILLE ASKS MRS. GARFIELD TO FORGIVE GUITEAU.

Cattle Raisers of Texas hold a Convention—The Interests of their Business—The Nebraska Star Route Case Proves a Fizzle.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Gen. Grant is causing a good deal of surprise among his friends by the marked change in his character in the last six months. Instead of being determined in opinions, he has become vacillating. Several months ago he was an earnest advocate of the Nicaragua canal scheme. He induced Admiral Ammen, Gen. Beale and a number of his personal friends to invest their capital in the enterprise, and it is said also that he induced a number of his personal friends, New York capitalists, to go into the canal scheme. Two weeks ago Jesse Grant came here at the instance of his father to invite the gentlemen who had been induced to go into the canal scheme to now drop that and subscribe to Capt. Eads' ship railroad project. As these gentlemen had also subscribed handsome sums to the original enterprise, they could not understand Gen. Grant's sudden change and his advice to them to subscribe money to what practically was a rival organization. As a matter of course they all refused, but Eads has been given to understand that Gen. Grant will have nothing to do with him. Grant's retirement from the directory of which he was for so short a time an ornament has reconciled him again with the canal people. His position in the Fitz John Porter case is also equally inexplicable to his friends. Grant has had the case presented him in every possible variety of aspects and every scintilla of evidence in the case has been before him. His change of opinion and warm espousal of Porter is in marked contrast to the stolid indifference with which he has rejected even the consideration of Porter's case in the past. A friend in New York says the general is becoming strangely avaricious of late years and is going into every kind of speculative enterprise. His name has appeared upon nearly every bill board in New York as director. The result has been to lessen his influence and withdraw from him the confidence of his friends. At the outset of the administration he was very influential with Mr. Arthur, but to-day he exerts no more influence than other prominent republicans. It is he who attempted to bulldoze the president into appointing Chaffee secretary of the interior. Had he been alone in this matter he of course would have made no impression, but being backed by Don Cameron and an association of powerful stalwarts, he has been able to defeat Sargent, but that is all he has been able to accomplish.

Railroad Notes from Boston.

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—The Boston Transcript says that Col. Nutt, president of the Atlantic and Pacific, received notice from the Atchison company that its $2,000,000 of Atlantic and Pacific subscription had all been taken.

The Boston and Maine road unfolded to-day before a legislative committee its great scheme for entering the city on elevated tracks similar to that recently put in practice by the Pennsylvania road in Philadelphia. The committee on railroads will visit Philadelphia in a few days. The proposition of Boston and Maine is to begin the use of its tracks at a point just south of Broadway, in Summerville, and to attain gradually a hight of eighteen feet, at which elevation six tracks will be brought to the station in Haymarket square, Boston. The cost of the work will be between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, and the practical result will be the abolition of two railroad grade crossings, over which 10,000,000 or 11,000,000 passengers were carried last year; also the abolition of four highway crossings, all of which are heavily traveled by teams and pedestrians. Another advantage would be the saving of eight minutes to passengers. No one appeared in opposition, and the legislature will very likely grant the desired authority.

Southern Railroad Notes.

The Mail and Express, in Wall street gossip, says contractors who are grading the extension of the St. Louis and San Francisco road from Pacific City to Dallas, Texas, have received instructions to reduce their force one half, pending the action of the board of directors at their annual meeting, March 14th, as to whether the line shall be built or whether traffic of the road shall continue to be done over the Missouri Pacific.

The Texas Lumberman says it will take a billion feet of lumber to finish the railroads projected in that state.

Ground was broken yesterday at Mojave on that section of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad to be built by the Southern Pacific company.

Loss of the Bahama.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The ship Glenmoray arrived to-day. She picked up a boat with eleven of the crew and two passengers of the steamer Bahama from Porto Rico for New York. John L. Scott, a cabin passenger, says the Bahama left St. Johns, Porto Rico, on the 4th of February. On February 8th she encountered a hurricane which threw the steamer on her beam ends. It was concluded to abandon the ship and two boats were lowered. The captain's boat contained 17 passengers, but it was swamped shortly after leaving ship, and two or three were sent to swim back to the vessel, but it was impossible to tell if they succeeded in getting on board. Three of the crew refused to leave ship, preferring to take chances by remaining, as the two boats were so heavily loaded. Our boat contained Robert Williams, first officer, Robert Ross, second officer, H. J. Tear and myself, three passengers, two engineers, chief steward, a cook, waiter, boatswain and fireman.

A Heartless Family.

ROCK RAPIDS, Ia., Feb. 16.—Before the coroner's jury who are investigating the murder of John Lanahan, who was killed while sitting near a window Saturday night, Maggie, his oldest daughter, confessed that she did the shooting. She also implicated her mother, her sister Anna and the latter's lover, a young man named Birch. The girl testified that it had been agreed between them some time ago to "put the old man out of the way" at the earliest opportunity.

Birch furnished the pistol, and when her father came home from a farmer's club meeting and was about to sit down, she stepped up behind him and fired, killing him instantly. The three arranged the body so as to appear as if some one had shot him through the window, while her sister Anna went out and broke the glass. As to the motive for the crime, Maggie testified Birch wanted to marry Anna, and her father refused. He also did not provide for them. The mother and other daughter corroborated this testimony. Birch at one time lived with the family and was driven from the house by Lanahan, who suspected him with criminal intimacy with his wife and daughter. All parties implicated are under arrest and the greatest excitement prevails.

Cattle Raisers' Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—Cattle men of Texas met in convention at Austin yesterday, and a resolution was adopted asking the legislature to repeal the stock inspection law, which has caused much trouble to stock raisers. A committee was appointed to consider the subject of improving breeds of cattle. A. F. Riggs, of St. Louis, addressed the convention by invitation, and stated that the National Meat Supply Company, of which he is president, intend erecting at different places in Texas large slaughtering houses, in which meat would be dressed for transportation in refrigerator cars to the north. He said the company would want next year 300,000. The convention passed a resolution heartily endorsing the enterprise and promised to give it all encouragement.

Wants Guiteau Forgiven.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—The Times prints this morning what purports to be a copy of a registered letter sent by Mrs. Scoville to Mrs. Garfield last Tuesday, pleading for forgiveness for the assassin. It concludes, "Never can I rest satisfied until I be allowed on my bended knees, under the weight of this humiliation and despair, a few brief moments in which to pour forth to your merciful heart the pleadings of one who must ever feel a sister's love for an insane, worthless boy, even though by the whole world contemned and despised."

A Complete Fizzle.

LINCOLN, Neb. Feb. 16.—The star route cases exploded to-day. Judge Dundy ruled that Clary could not be compelled to testify, being one of the parties to the joint indictment for conspiracy. The prosecution immediately declined to go further, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Clary had made a clean breast twice before the trial, and his refusal to testify completely broke down the cases.

Boiler Explosion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A boiler explosion to-day at Jewell's ferry, Brooklyn, killed Gilbert Stephens, engineer. Gideon G. Baldwin, pilot of the Fulton ferry boat, had a leg broken by a flying piece of timber, and a miller named Kohn had his scalp taken entirely off. Loss unknown.

Death of Joseph E. Sheffield.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 16.—Joseph E. Sheffield, founder of the Sheffield scientific school, connected with Yale college, died this morning. He was connected with several railroad and mining enterprises, and was a man of great wealth and very liberal in its use.

No Interruption Made.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—The ripple of excitement at the Pullman shops has subsided. Two hundred of the men quit work, and the company paid them off, and then arranged for supplying their places. Business will not be interrupted.

Fire at Lynn.

LYNN, Mass., Feb. 16.—Kelly's morocco manufactory, several stores in the same building and adjoining dwellings were burned last night. Loss, $50,000; partly insured.

Mardi Gras at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16.—The eighth annual pageant of the Knights of Momus occurred to-night. There were sixteen magnificent tableaux mounted on cars. Monday the king of carnival makes his triumphal entry into the city.

A Town Destroyed.

OMAHA, Feb. 16.—Nearly all the business portion of Robinson, Kansas, including a hotel and fourteen buildings, was burned to the ground this forenoon. No particulars as to losses and insurance.

Settling the Immigrant Traffic.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—At a meeting of the western trunk lines a settlement was effected in the controversy with eastern lines which has continued two years, regarding immigrant traffic. The report of the committee was accepted recommending that the lines agree to a tax of ten per cent. on each line in proportion to through rates, for the purpose of defraying expenses of procuring and directing the foreign emigrant business. A percentage is to be borne by each line in the route of travel from the seaboard to the destination, and trunk lines of seaboard trunk lines agree to pay the transfer charge of 50 cents in Chicago. The meeting to be held to-morrow will secure an understanding with the steamship companies.

Eastern Wheat Trade with England.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—In relation to the wheat panic, one of the firm of Franklin Edson, ex-president and a prominent member of the Produce Exchange, to-day said: "Our letters this morning from London say there is ten times as much wheat on its way from California, Chili, India, etc., as ever before, but they warn us that the market is closed to us unless we come down in prices. We have come down and perhaps may have to come down still further before getting our English trade back again."

Watching an Interesting Process.

A large crowd of people assembled this afternoon at Harry Hill's to see the winnings of the late prize fight between Sullivan and Ryan paid to the victor. A dispatch was received from Sullivan announcing that he could not be in the city before the 6th of March.

Dungannon Centennial.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The centennial of the Dungannon convention was celebrated by a banquet to-night. Letters of regret were read from President Arthur, Vice President Davis and others.

Agreement of Ticket Agents.

General passenger and ticket agents meet to-day for further action regarding abolition of the system of paying commissions to agents and others for sale of tickets. An agreement was entered into that hereafter they would not directly or indirectly pay any commission to any ticket agent or his representatives in the employ of railroad companies parties to the agreement. The action heretofore taken simply provided that the roads of the combination should not allow their own agents to receive commissions for sale of tickets for other roads. Forty-seven roads were represented.

Insurance Decision.

Judge Dyer to-day entered a decree in the suit of Hart vs. Globe Insurance Co. of Chicago and others, setting aside a settlement between that company and Geo. F. Harding for $160,000. In 1874 Harding was made president of the company, and on retiring from that position accepted securities of the company for a preferential claim for this amount. Court held his claim is not entitled to any preference and he would have to account for the securities received.

A Railroad Rumor.

It is stated among railroad men that McIntyre of the Pacific railway syndicate sold his interest in the company to W. H. Vanderbilt.

Overflow of the Brazos.

GALVESTON, Feb. 15.—It is reported that Columbia, Brazos county, is inundated by water from the Brazos river. Many inhabitants fled and others have taken refuge in the church and are supplied with food by boats.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

CALIFORNIA.

A Brilliant Wedding.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Frederick May, of Baltimore, was married last night to Miss Cecelia Coleman, niece of the late W. S. O'Brien, at St. Mary's Cathedral, Rev. Archbishop Alemany performing the ceremony. A reception at the residence of the bride's mother followed, and was a brilliant affair.

California Weather.

The only places which have reported weather clear are Martinez, Antioch and Pinole. Rain has fallen at Los Angeles and Spadra, and the remainder of southern California towns report cloudy weather and falling barometer. Snow is falling very heavily in Sierra and the storm belt extends eastward across the mountains in Nevada. Rain is falling in Sacramento valley and in some places the total for the season almost equals that of last year up to the same date. No rain is reported as having fallen during the last 24 hours in San Joaquin valley. Weather in that part of the state, however, is cloudy and a southerly wind is blowing.

The Wreck Mystery Cleared Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—A dispatch from Westport to-day states that a vessel had come ashore at Bear harbor near Mendocino City. The vessel is dismasted and waterlogged. She belonged at Port Townsend, but the name could not be ascertained. The hull was painted black with white rails aft. This is doubtless the same vessel which was reported from Westport some days ago, and at the time supposed to be a large steamer. The schooner Two Brothers, which is believed to have sailed from Coquille river, Oregon, on the 21 inst., bound for this port loaded with lumber and salmon, is now about ten days overdue, and this is thought to be the vessel which is reported to have come ashore near Westport.

Galliano's Examination.

In police court No. 2 to-day the case of Juan Baptista Galliano, an Italian who some time ago killed his brother and cousin and wounded his sister and an older woman at the Santiago gardens, in Visitation valley, was called for examination. The case first examined was that in which the accused was charged with the murder of Pietro Pastorino, his cousin.

Stage Robbers Captured.

HOLLISTER, Feb. 16.—Capt. Aull, Deputy Sheriff Whitlock, of Fresno, and L. C. Davis, overtook and captured to-day the Chinese camp stage robbers. After striking the trail the officers traveled down Trespinos canyon about 10 miles and overtook their game journeying towards Hollister in a light wagon. They were completely surprised and taken without resistance, though heavily armed. Capt. Aull recognized both as ex-convicts. One, Frank Rolfe, has served two terms in San Quentin. The other gives the name of Joe Hampton. They were safely lodged in jail here at 10 o'clock and will be taken to Sonora by Capt. Aull to-morrow.

NEVADA.

Comstock Notes.

VIRGINIA, Feb. 16.—They shut down at Forman shaft this evening on account of the Belcher and Crown Point not having paid their share of the expenses. Caledonia also shut down. Prospecting will be continued by Overman and the Belcher has taken their water. At the Yellow Jacket the water is still rising but very slowly. The Savage connection had not yet been made this afternoon but will doubtless be made to-night.

The Nicaragua Canal Subject.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Post's Washington special says: There are indications that opponents of Captain Eads' ship railway project are endeavoring to give new energy to the Nicaragua scheme, with a view not only to defeat Eads' plan, but to advance their own. The general subject of a maritime company has been referred, in the senate, to Miller of California as a sub-committee, while in the house Rosecrans has introduced a bill to incorporate the Nicaraguan company with other formidable list of incorporators. Among the names in this list are those of U. S. Grant, E. D. Morgan, Hugh J. Jewett, W. R. Garrison, Frederick Billings, Geo. B. Loring, James R. Keene, E. F. Beale, Dan'l Ammen, Geo. B. Baker, Wm. H. Barnum, A. G. Menocal and U. S. Grant, Jr. These incorporators represent some very large railroad interests and include some very prominent capitalists. They ask congress to guarantee to that company for a period of twenty years, from the time of the completion of the canal, the net proceeds of traffic, which shall not be less than 3 per cent. upon the capital stock, which is to be not less than $50,000,000. In other words, the incorporators request the government to insure them from $1,500,000 to $3,000,000 per annum. Nothwithstanding all these antagonistic movements Eads boasts that he will receive a favorable report from the committee.

Snowdon's Views on Branch Mints.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Snowdon, of the Philadelphia mint, was before the house committee on coinage to-day in reference to the extension of that mint, and in the course of discussion upon coinage generally, he recommended that instead of establishing branch mints, superintendents of assay offices be authorized by the government to issue bullion certificates for bullion deposited there. His recommendation is that the superintendents of assay offices be compelled to receive both gold and silver bullion on deposit and issue to depositors certificates in amounts of $10 and upwards therefor, payable to bearer, and these certificates shall at once enter into the general circulation of the country. Snowdon said this would be much cheaper than to establish branch mints and would serve substantially the same purpose. This suggestion met with decided favor in the minds of the committee. Snowdon was asked if he did not think the issuance of these certificates would tend to bring silver up to a par with gold, and he replied in the affirmative. He will give this subject due attention.

The Anti-Polygamy Bill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Tribune's Washington: The anti-polygamy bill will probably pass the senate to-morrow without being very materially changed from the manner in which it came from the judiciary committee. Edmunds is doing what he can to make speech-making unpopular, and although the measure is the most important with which the senate has thus far had to deal, he has secured an understanding that it should be voted on at 5:30 to-morrow, if not disposed of earlier.

Cannon Almost Distracted.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A Washington special to the Mail and Express says: Discussion in the senate yesterday points to the passage to-day of the bill to suppress Mormonism. It is evident that something severe in this matter is contemplated at this session by both houses, and whatever bill is passed the president will sign. Never before before was so much feeling exhibited, and the Mormon delegate from Utah is almost distracted with the situation.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Anti-Polygamy Bill at Last Passes the Senate.

THE VOTE UPON THE BILL A UNANIMOUS ONE.

The Apportionment Bill to be Based on a Membership of 325, According to Anderson's Amendment—General Notes.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An important meeting was held to-night at the office of the secretary of the navy. There were present Secretary Hunt, the members of the advisory board, almost the entire naval committee of both houses of congress, Admirals Porter, Ammen and C. P. Rogers, Commodore Sicard, Chief Engineer Schock, Capt. Evans and several other naval officers of distinction, and invited guests. The meeting was called to order by the secretary of the navy, who stated its object to be a general conference with a view of securing the adoption of the best plan to build a new and suitable navy. In a few well chosen words he congratulated the board and two committees on the progress that had been made in investigation of this important subject. He thought the press and people generally were anxious to have a navy built, but they wanted those responsible for the organization to agree upon a plan, and he had asked all parties to meet and discuss any differences of opinion which existed. He then asked Mr. Harris, as chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, to give his views on the situation. Mr. Harris said the committee had listened with pleasure to the board and were in harmony with them on the general subject of a new navy. The board itself was divided on some points; they had felt it desirable to enquire concerning the sources of supply, modes, material, etc. From practical ship builders he for one was willing to say as the result of his enquiry and reflections that he would urge immediate construction of two of the largest and fastest type of vessels recommended by the board, two of the second class, one of Admiral Ammen's rams, and one each of three classes of torpedo boats, or seven vessels in all, the aggregate cost of which would be $10,000,000. His proposition had not been formally passed upon by the committee but he felt justified in saying that this represented their views. They were disposed to go at least that far in adopting recommendations of the board. He then invited naval officers present to make what criticisms occurred to them. Secretary Hunt called on Admiral Porter to reply, and he did so in cordial terms, saying that the position of the committee was satisfactory to him and would be, he thought, to the navy generally. Subsequent discussions were had on questions of armor, ordnance and material of construction, and the meeting came to an end.

The Graphic's Growl.

The Graphic's Washington correspondent says: The snail-like progress which congress is making has had the effect to throw it so far behind that the appropriation committee has suspended daily sessions for the present. There are the consular and diplomatic bill, postoffice appropriation bill, military academy bill and another to provide for certain urgent deficiencies, while the work so far has been wasted in wordy debate upon one thing and another, chiefly the apportionment bill and Robinson's resolution concerning certain hypothetical cases of arrest in Ireland, which had already been covered by one adopted some days before, and could have been disposed of in five minutes.

The appropriation committee is not the only one which has important measures on the calendar for action. The ways and means committee has reported Kasson's tariff commission bill and internal revenue bill; the committee on commerce has reported the bill to regulate carriage of passengers by sea and about a dozen others to make appropriations for various public works; the committee on education and labor has pending a bill to regulate Chinese immigration; the foreign affairs committee a bill to restore the Japanese indemnity fund, and the committee on banking and currency a bill to extend charters of national banks. From the committee on public buildings and grounds there are about twenty measures providing for public buildings in various parts of the country, while there are scores of important bills reported and waiting action in committee of the whole of the house from General Henderson's industrious committee on military affairs and Haskell's no less active committee on Indian affairs. On the private calendar there are already twenty bills reported favorably and ready whenever the house may see fit to do something.

Guatemala Makes her Peace.

Notice has been received here at the Mexican and other legations that on the 11th of January Guatemala offered a treaty to Mexico which will be accepted, freely ceding to Mexico the section of country about which there has been a boundary dispute, and agreeing to establish the boundary according to the claims of Mexico. This is rather a comical ending to Blaine's proposed intervention in favor of Guatemala, which he sought to justify on grounds which the Mexican secretary of state, it will be remembered, showed him to be untenable, for the reason that Blaine had omitted to inform himself of the history and facts of the dispute.

What Garfield's Policy Would Have Been.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Tribune's Washington special: A close personal friend of the late President Garfield said to a correspondent of the Tribune this evening that he had talked with General Garfield several times about the projected inter-oceanic canal, and Garfield said, in substance, on these occasions, that his administration would take a position and enforce it in so far as it had power, that if French, English or German capital constructed the canal, in whole or in part, it should be used exactly as it would be if it was invested in railroad or other international improvements upon the American continent, and that European governments should not acquire any rights, either proprietary or protective, over the canal.

The 306 Medal Nonsense.

The exposure of the 306 medal project was premature. It was the intention to have them delivered from Washington and the announcement formally made, while Grant was expected to write a circular letter thanking the receivers for their support. It is said Conkling received his medal several weeks in advance of the others and signified no approval of the design.

Dakota's Prospects of Admission.

In the matter of the proposed admission of Dakota the committee have been convinced that the proposed state has sufficient population for admission, and in their report, after saying that they are convinced that the population exceeds 160,000, will present a table showing the population of a number of counties in which the census of 1880 was taken, and the population as estimated by citizens of southern counties who have appeared before the committee.

Crop Estimates for 1881.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Cereal estimates of the department of agriculture of crops of 1881 as compared with those of 1880 show a reduction of 31 per cent. in corn, 22 in wheat, 27 in rye and 19 in barley. The product of oats was about 1,400,000 less than the previous year. The aggregate product of all cereals was 2,063,029,570 bushels, against 2,718,193,501, a decrease of 24 per cent. The values are in round millions, as follows: Corn, 759; wheat, 453; oats, 193; rye, 19; barley, 33; buckwheat, 18. Total, 1485, against 1361 in 1880.

Major Rochester Exonerated.

The senate in executive session this afternoon had read and referred the nominations received the past two days. The military committee unanimously reported back the nomination of Major Rochester for paymaster general of the army favorably. The committee after investigation exonerated Rochester from all responsibility for the defalcation of Paymaster Hodge. The committee declare that Rochester followed the usual custom of the department in passing upon Hodge's paper and that his record as an officer is excellent.

A Bill to Retire Trade Dollars.

The house committee on banking and currency will report a bill to retire trade dollars. They are to be bought up as bullion, a certain amount to be purchased regularly from a fund provided for this purpose.

Anticipating the Market.

It is thought this morning by gentlemen in financial circles that the treasury department would issue an order during the day anticipating payment of U. S. bonds embraced in the 107th call, which mature on March 13th. The attention of Secretary Folger was called to the matter this afternoon. He said he saw no reason at this time for anticipating payment of the bonds, and unless the circumstances should warrant it he did not desire to issue such an order. From further conversation with the secretary, however, it would appear that payment of bonds will be anticipated if the present feverish condition of the New York market continues.

Result of Indian Labor.

The result of Indian labor during the past twelve years since the beginning of the "peace policy," the board of Indian commissioners says, shows an increase in products of the soil by Indian labor of nearly twelve fold. At this rate of progress it is confidently predicted the time is not far distant when all semi-civilized Indians will be self-supporting, and the few tribes that remain wild and savage will soon follow their example. The report closes as follows: We simply urge persistent adherence to the peace policy, which means a government by law, homestead rights, education, etc.

Anderson's Appointment Bill.

Anderson's substitute fixing the membership of the house at 325 will, it is generally conceded, be finally passed in the house to-morrow. It is about as the bill passed by the democratic house last year, except it provides for six more members. These six additional members are given one each to New York, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, Texas and South Carolina. The democrats say it is a fair bill and they will support it.

A Gentle Hint to Mahone.

The introduction in the Virginia legislature to-day by a readjuster senator of a resolution inviting Senator Mahone to leave Richmond and return to his duties in Washington creates considerable comment here. The author of the resolution is one of the senators who bolted the readjuster caucus. Senator Mahone has been in Richmond some days and is said to be endeavoring to harmonize the warring factions of his party.

Pendleton's New Bank.

The controller of currency to-day authorized the First National Bank of Pendleton, Or., with a capital of $50,000, to commence business.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.

After a short executive session the anti-polygamy bill was proceeded with, the question being upon the eighth section as reported from the judiciary committee.

Morgan addressed the senate and asked whether the bill would not exclude from his seat the delegate from Utah, who was represented as being a polygamist.

Edmunds said in reply that inquiry would be made in due time on behalf of the committee which reported the bill.

The anti-polygamy bill discussion was long. Vest denounced the bill as in every feature a bill of attainder, inflicting punishment without a judicial trial, which was prohibited by the constitution. He would not give his vote for the principles of the bill, though upon his assent to it should depend his future political life. He believed it would substitute for an anti-republican government in Utah, an anti-republican star chamber arrangement.

Pendleton objected to several features of the bill, particularly to one excluding from jury and bar known polygamists in trials for polygamy, etc. He said that this bill discriminated against a man faithful to several wives and in favor of one holding adulterous relations. He regarded the measure for this reason as intended to secure punishment for crimes without conviction, therefore he gave notice of amendment in these respects.

Sherman said he would vote for the bill but doubted its effect.

Vance said he believed the time would soon come when some of the saints in authority in Utah would have new revelations from sources all would recognize, and that in this way he would get rid of polygamy by voluntary action of its supporters.

The remaining committee amendments and social sections of the bill were then agreed to without further debate and the bill reported to the senate as from committee of the whole.

Brown then renewed his amendment requiring that not more than three of the members of the board of commissioners shall be members of the same political party; agreed to by a party vote—yeas 26; noes 24. Davis of Illinois voted aye with the democrats, and Mahone was absent.

Another amendment offered by Brown to the last section of the bill was advocating prohibition of the board from disfranchising any one on account of his opinion on the subject of bigamy or polygamy.

Saulsbury offered and advocated a proposition making the seventh section inapplicable to all persons now holding office in the territory; defeated, after a statement by Edmunds that such amendment would render the bill nugatory by ayes 13; noes 41.

Several amendments were proposed and defeated by decisive votes, and after re-arrangement of its sections the bill was finally passed by a viva voce vote, in which no negative responses were heard.

The pension arrears resolution was laid over for unfinished business.

Secretary Lincoln urges an appropriation of $88,216 for new barracks and additional quarters at Fort Leavenworth. Senate adjourned.

House.

Cox from the committee auditing expenses arising from the illness and death of President Garfield reported.

The bill granting a pension of five thousand per year to Mrs. Garfield passed.

The following bills were reported:

Carlisle, from committee on ways and means, to regulate collection of tax on weiss beer; referred to committee of the whole.

Burrows, from committee on territories, for admission of Dakota into the union as a state; placed on house calendar.

Hooker, from committee on Indian affairs, to provide additional training schools for Indian youth; placed on calendar.

Dunnell, from committee on ways and means, reported a bill fixing the term of office of a collector of internal revenue at four years; placed on house calendar.

Horr reported, adversely from committee on civil service reform, a bill to reduce salaries of heads of departments and members of congress; referred to committee of the whole.

Consideration of the apportionment bill was resumed and Prescott offered a resolution providing that whenever the house shall determine upon any number of members the same shall be apportioned among states on the same basis of division used at the 44th congress and now known as the old method.

Boyne of Pennsylvania moved to amend so as to provide that the apportionment shall be based upon the Seaton method.

Converse of Ohio moved to amend so as to adopt the plan previously presented and favored by him.

Hooker submitted an amendment to the bill selecting 325 as the total number of representatives.

Thompson of Kentucky spoke in favor of the apportionment bill fixing the representation at 319.

At three o'clock the previous question was seconded and a vote taken on the amendment of Converse.

The resolution submitted by Prescott was rejected.

Boyne's amendment only received nine affirmative votes, while 148 members were recorded as opposed to the adoption of the Seaton method.

Prescott's resolution, basing representation upon the old system of apportionment was then adhered to without division.

The speaker stated that the first vote would be on the amendment offered by Cox fixing representation at 307, and ruled that Cox could not modify it by changing that number to 319.

Cox thereupon withdrew the amendment and the next vote was taken on the amendment offered by Anderson of Kansas, fixing the number at 325, and it was agreed to—ayes 142; noes—104.

The representatives are as follows:

Alabama	8	Mississippi	7
Arkansas	5	Missouri	14
California	6	Nebraska	3
Colorado	1	Nevada	1
Connecticut	4	New Hampshire	2
Delaware	1	New Jersey	7
Florida	2	New York	34
Georgia	10	North Carolina	9
Illinois	20	Ohio	21
Indiana	13	Oregon	1
Iowa	11	Pennsylvania	28
Kansas	7	Rhode Island	2
Kentucky	11	South Carolina	7
Louisiana	6	Tennessee	10
Maine	4	Texas	11
Maryland	6	Vermont	2
Massachusetts	12	Virginia	10
Michigan	11	West Virginia	4
Minnesota	5	Wisconsin	9

The next vote was taken upon the amendment offered to the third section of the bill by Beltzhoover of Pennsylvania, the object of which is to make it unlawful to divide any parish or county in formation of any representative district, which shall consist of more than one county or parish; rejected—Yeas, 117; noes, 135.

Springer of Illinois moved to reconsider the vote by which the house had rejected the amendment offered by Calcrick of Indiana, amending section 3 of the bill so as to provide if any state in which the number of representatives is changed by this act, the legislature whereof shall not have adopted its laws in time to enable representatives to be elected to the 48th congress, it shall be lawful for the governor of such state after it shall have been redistricted to provide for a special election for such representatives. When this amendment was rejected there was no interest paid to it, and Calcrick was unable to obtain the ayes and nays, but Springer's motion to reconsider was the signal for a scene of great noise and confusion. A motion to table and motion to reconsider was immediately made on the republican side and the democrats demanded yeas and nays.

Springer asked that the amendment be read, but a storm of objections came from the republican side, and the speaker ruled it could only be read by unanimous consent. Confusion reigned for some time, and finally when comparative order was restored, a vote was taken on the motion to lay on the table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the house rejected Calcrick's amendment, and resulted, yeas, 131; nays, 4. No quorum. Democrats refrained from voting, and without further action the house adjourned.

The Slave Trade in Upper Egypt to be Abolished.

OVER 100 MINERS BURIED BY AN ENGLISH COLLIERY EXPLOSION.

A Gloomy Outlook in the Paris Financial Market—Commander Selby of the British Navy Attacked by Albanians.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Commander W. H. C. Selby of the British man-of-war Falcon, while on a shooting excursion near Artaki, Asia Minor, was seriously wounded by an Albanian with an ax. Said Pasha has ordered the government of Artaki to arrest the assailant. A Turkish and British man-of-war have proceeded to Artaki. Commander Selby is in a critical condition.

Commander Selby had been warned by the Albanian not to shoot in the vicinity of his flocks, but did not understand the warning. Selby put his gun on the ground to show he was peacefully inclined, whereupon the Albanian attempted to seize it. A struggle ensued for the possession of the weapon. The Albanian desisted on Capt. Greenfell's pointing his gun at him, but afterwards returned with a comrade when Commander Selby was attacked with an ax. While returning to their ship the English officers were attacked by 15 Albanians, who knocked them senseless with the butt ends of muskets and bound them. Subsequently Consul Wrench succeeded in procuring the release of Commander Selby and his companions by offering himself as hostage. Wrench was afterwards released. The motive for the outrage was probably that the shepherds objected to sportsmen and dogs disturbing their sheep.

A Doubtful Case.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—It is doubtful whether discussion of the new parliamentary rules can commence in the commons to-day, as debate on the report on the address in reply to the queen's speech has not yet been concluded.

Infernal Machines Bursted.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 15.—Two boxes containing infernal machines which had been delivered to two different addresses, to-day exploded on being opened. Eight persons were injured.

A Gloomy Prospect.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—It is semi-officially stated that new shares of Union Generale will be pronounced valid and outside brokers be requested to pay the difference they owe the bankrupt company on transactions in new shares. Great consternation exists among unauthorized brokers, as thereby the position of Lyons official brokers will be rendered more grave. The outlook is darker and position of the markets is becoming more complicated.

Slavery to be Abolished in Egypt.

CAIRO, Feb. 16.—The ministers have decided on the principle of total abolition of slavery. In view of the execution of this decision Kader Pasha has been appointed governor of the Soudan, and a special department for that province will be created at Cairo. Detailed instructions relative to the slave trade and slavery are now being prepared.

EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,
120 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS
MADE PRIOR TO 1882,
The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Policies with the following remarkable results:
POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS
WITH THE RETURN OF ALL
PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.

1st Example: Policy No. 43,563, issued May 25, 1869. Amount........$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years)........5,504 00
The assured was entitled to draw, in cash, $6,455.80—having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years. 115 per cent. of premiums paid, returnable in cash.
This example and those which follow show that
LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID
POLICY-HOLDERS
THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.

2d Example: Policy No. 59,543, issued Dec. 30, 1870. Endowment 20 years. Tontine Period ten years.
Amount........$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years)........7,539 00
The assured on Dec. 30, 1880, was entitled to draw in cash, $9,033 30, 120 per cent of the premiums paid.
These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are
NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.

3d Example: Policy No. 41,621, issued March 27, 1869. Amount........$5,000 00
Total premiums paid........2,906 95
In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1880, in cash, $3,312 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.
Many policies will be thus paid in 1882, showing
CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.
Assets securely invested of $43,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,100,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average
ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.
The Society pays death claims promptly and in full. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unreasonable conditions.
EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE
AFTER THREE YEARS.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 17, 1882.

A GOOD BILL.

In his annual report recently issued the secretary of the interior discussed at length the policy which in his opinion ought to be pursued for improvement of the condition of the uncivilized Indians. The policy embraces extensive plans for segregating and individualizing them, breaking up the community or reservation system, teaching the Indians the habit of self-dependence and instructing them in the pursuit of various industries necessary to obtainment of their own subsistence. The secretary has now, by request of the president, prepared for submission to congress a bill embodying in detail the plans suggested in his report. Many of our people are in contact with Indians and Indian reservations, and an outline of this bill will be to them a matter both of interest and value.

It begins with providing for the appointment of a commission of three members, to be known as the Commission on Indian Civilization, and for a secretary and interpreters to the commission. It also provides that the commission, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, shall visit such tribes as the president may designate, and authorizes them, after ascertaining the size of their reservations, the number of Indians therein, and obtaining other information to enlighten their judgment and understanding in the premises, to enter into agreements with the Indians, with their free consent, for a reduction of reservations in cases where the commission shall deem such reductions advisable. In such cases the bill provides for surveying the boundaries of the diminished reserves; to extend the public surveys over the same and over the ceded lands and also provides for the sale of the ceded lands for cash, the expenses of surveys and sales of lands to be paid from the proceeds of such sales, and the balance to be placed to the credit of the Indians. The bill further provides for conveying the diminished reserves by patents to the Indians, giving permanent ownership, except in cases of allotment in severalty in their tribal capacity. It provides for the allotment of land in severalty; and, if it is proved that the Indian has cultivated the selected ten acres it will be patented to him and the cost of improvements to the amount of $100 in each case will be defrayed by the government from surrendered lands, the proceeds of the sales of surrendered lands to be expended under the direction of the secretary of the interior in the erection of houses, purchase of harness, horses, cattle, farming implements, etc., and in the erection of school buildings, the payment of teachers and for the subsistence of school teachers when necessary. The commission is directed, in cases where it is not thought advisable to reduce reservations, to enter into agreements for the survey of the boundaries of the reservations, to extend public surveys over them, and to convey allotments in severalty. The commission is also authorized to negotiate for the cession of entire reservations and the removal of the Indians to other reservations, surveys and sales of such reservations to be made by the government, and the moneys to be expended for the benefit of the Indians on the reserves to which they may be removed. Provision is also made for allotments in severalty on their new reserve.

In an accompanying letter Secretary Kirkwood explains some of the objects of the bill, chief of which is to make the Indians self-supporting, to give them title to their lands in severalty, and to educate and to civilize them. Another feature is to provide by treaty for paying the Indians within a limited period after the passage of the act or after the sums shall become payable, the principal of all trust funds now held by the United States for Indians; and still another feature is the gradual reduction of annual appropriations by congress for the support of Indians, until, in the near future, as the Indians become self-supporting, such appropriations shall entirely cease. The bill, while aiming to bring the Indians into a condition of self-support, carefully guards all their rights and interests. It is in full accord with the recommendations contained in the secretary's report, and with views upon Indian affairs expressed by the president in his message to congress.

ABOUT ARMY RETIREMENTS.

It is not uncommon for officers of the army to be retired from active service immediately after a promotion which greatly increases their retired pay; and our dispatches within the past few days furnish an instance of this abuse. Gen. Meigs, who has served since 1861 at the head of the supply department of the army, has long been eligible to retirement, and it is stated, has wished to give up the active duties of his position. General Grant wanted the place for Gen. Rufus Ingalls, whom he has often characterized as one of his best lieutenants during the war, and urged his appointment not only because he deserved promotion, but upon his personal fitness for the position and its duties. But Gen. Sheridan wanted the appointment for his father-in-law, Col. Rucker, also a capable officer, but old enough to be retired. It is said that a compromise was effected by which Rucker was to succeed Meigs, with the understanding that he be retired within a few months, to be succeeded in turn by Ingalls. Be this as it may, Rucker has been appointed and is now in charge of the quartermaster's department. The allowance of retired officers of the United States army is liberal, and it is very small and very contemptible business for officers to "figure about" for retired pay upon a rank which they have never or but temporarily occupied. And the executive who lends his authority to such schemes deserves censure.

The practice of retirement needs to be remedied so that all officers shall give place upon disability or attainment of a certain age. The retirement of Gen. Ord last year, in the height of a gallant and useful career, seemed to be a hardship, and was a hardship, because McDowell was retained. Ord would not have complained if the rule had been enforced all round, but it seemed to be a severe personal stroke to be forced to quit the service while another, even further beyond the retiring age, was retained.

The New York Times insists, and justly, that congress should make short work of the attempt to admit New Mexico into the union as a state. The territory is unprogressive and incapable of progress. It is one of the few communities in the republic in which it is necessary to print the laws, reports of legislative proceedings, and official advertisements in a foreign language. The majority of the population is of the mongrel breed known as "greaser." This mixture is of Hispano-Mexican, negro, and Indian stock. A correspondent of the Times describes the compound race as made up of the "blood of Apache, negro, Navajo, white horse thief, Pueblo Indian, and old-time frontiersman with the original Mexican stock." There is a great gulf fixed between this mixed race and the American settlers. In language, religion, traditions and mental characteristics, those two elements of population are wholly dissimilar. The entire population of the territory, small part of which is of unmixed blood, is 119,565. Some of the eastern journals object to admission of so small a community to statehood. But the fact that the numbers are small is the best thing about such a population. If there were millions, instead of thousands, the problem would be a still harder one.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who is supposed to be as fully as any one in the confidence of Mr. Tilden, says: "He could not be induced to accept any nomination or public place whatever. He loves his country, is loyal to his party and takes a lively interest in current affairs. His counsel and his purse are open to his party. His person he has reserved to his declining years, which he proposes to enjoy with his friends, his books and his pictures, of which he is fond. He enjoys society as keenly as he ever did, and is as pungent and epigrammatic as of yore in his conversation and repartee. No one has ever heard a murmur of complaint escape his lips. Those who know him best know that he is the exact opposite of a disappointed man, and that he regarded his liberation from party obligation and service as an act of emancipation. We speak advisedly, therefore, when we say that under no circumstances could he be induced again to enter personally into the struggle for political life."

An Ohio representative in congress has introduced a bill to prohibit "treating" on the part of candidates for congressional honors, either before or after the election. The state of Wisconsin now has a statute, which the present legislature is trying hard to repeal, which makes it unlawful for any person to "treat" another, whether the treater is a candidate for office or not, and even the ladies who sometimes offer their callers a simple glass of light wine are not exempt from its penalties. If the "Ohio idea" in the case of the congressional reformer alluded to above, is to promote the temperance movement, it ought to be suggested to him to adopt the Wisconsin plan and make the bill much more sweeping and effectual than it now is. But if he fears that such a stringent measure would not pass congress, and regards half a loaf as better than no bread then let him proceed on the narrow gauge of protecting the poor candidates who find the practice of "treating" a source of great expense.

If it be true, as reported, that Mrs. Scoville has written a letter in behalf of her brother, the assassin, to Mrs. Garfield, the fact only emphasizes the theory that a taint of insanity runs through the Guiteau family. It has been frequently stated that Mrs. Scoville is just on the border line of insanity. There is something pathetic in her vagaries when it is remembered that, so far as the world has witnessed them, they spring from the devotion of a sister to an assassin who, though at once a fool, scoundrel and monster, still has a place in the heart of the only woman who is bound to him by the ties of blood. But Mrs. Garfield is burdened with a sorrow that should be sacred from the intrusion of the world, and above all from the intrusion of every one connected with this assassin; and if Mrs. Scoville does not feel this it is clearly because she is incapable of seeing the just relations and proportions of things.

Washington dispatches say that the estimates for river and harbor improvement this year foot up about $30,000,000. The committee intend to cut them down to about $9,000,000, and are fully resolved that they shall not run over $10,000,000, with an additional million for the mouth of the Mississippi. Of course the amounts which Oregon asks for will have to be "scaled" with the rest. It is unreasonable to expect any representative to get fancy figures when all must accept reduction. And it should be remembered that the most worthy requests have little more chance for attention than the least worthy. The distribution is a sort of geographical and arithmetical one. Each district claims its "share," without much regard to the actual needs of commerce.

Combined efforts have been made in England and France, as well as in America, to aid the Russian Jews who have been so cruelly treated in their native country. Meetings of the most respectable character have been held in London and Paris and much sympathy has been expressed, and what is better, heavy amounts have been subscribed to assist the people, oppressed on account of their religion, to emigrate to more liberal countries. In London alone the subscriptions already reach $150,000.

THE OREGONIAN regrets the necessity which has compelled it during the past week to print column after column of criminal reports more or less disgusting. That the necessity is absolute everybody must know. The reports of misdeeds sent abroad since Saturday last will do Portland more harm in the matter of reputation than a year's good conduct will overcome.

The gist of the South American trouble, as between the wrangling nations, is about this: Bolivia and Peru violated treaty obligations with Chili. Bolivia especially was faithless, and Peru aided her. Both were beaten in war, Chili claims indemnity from them, and as both are bankrupt proposes to take territory, to be held as security till the indemnity is paid.

The "Sons of Benjamin," a Jewish society of New York, proposes to bring colonies of oppressed Hebrews from Russia to the United States and a few days ago contributed $8000 toward that purpose. They have already solicited and secured the assistance of the state department in the matter.

Almost one-fifth of the inhabitants of the United States dwell in 100 cities, each having over 20,000 population. From 1870 to 1880 the increase of population in the country was about 12,000,000, of which nearly 2,400,000 was in these largest 100 cities.

The memories of the Morgan murder are again revived, this time by a movement having its origin at Batavia, N. Y., to erect a monument to Morgan. Already over 2000 persons have subscribed to the building fund.

Certain political "workers" are casting about in Illinois with a view to getting up a boom for Robert Lincoln to succeed David Davis in the senate.

The Grant medal is so violently out of taste as to amount almost to a public indecency. It is another evidence of Grant's weakening grip.

she is very lovely in her way and the best product of the country. She has the most beautiful eyes in the world, with a soft languishing expression in them for those who like that sort of a thing; a good complexion, not rosy but colorless, a magnificent head of hair, and a very shapely head to wear it on, a slim waist and a graceful walk. She is perfectly modest, in fact rather timid, perfectly well bred.

CITY.

MORE RAILROAD LINES.—Mr. C. H. Prescott, manager of the O. R. & N. Co., yesterday issued orders to commence operations on the surveyed line from Colfax, W. T., to Farmington, a distance of thirty miles northeast, and from Colfax to Moscow, Idaho, a distance of twenty-six miles. It will be remembered that before the Northern Pacific passed into Mr. Villard's control, the O. R. & N. Co. had commenced construction of a line from Texas Ferry on the north bank of Snake river, running for twenty-five miles east of north to the big Bend of the Palouse river, then almost east to Colfax. Such steep grades were required if the line ran to Snake river that the company decided to extend the Colfax line west, or northwest from the big bend of the Palouse to connect with the Pend d'Oreille division of the Northern Pacific, instead of turning south to connect with the Dayton branch. At just what point the Colfax branch will intersect the Northern Pacific can not be determined until surveys are made. Engineers will be put in the field within a fortnight.

CHINESE NEW YEAR.—If a person never before had heard of the Chinese and their doings, he would have known something unusual was about to take place had he seen the countenances of all the Chinamen in Portland last night. The majority of them were sitting up in the stores, talking and laughing with the proprietors, in the best of good humor. Now and then some would make their way to a table on which was spread a bountiful repast, consisting of all sorts of delicacies, and pouring out a glass of wine, would drink to the health of all present. Others were running about the streets with bundles under their arms, now and then stopping to congratulate a "brother." All those employed by the O. R. & N. Co. in Sullivan's gulch, came over last night and will remain through the new year festivities. A good start at noise with fireworks was made last night and this evening fun will begin in earnest.

WILSON CHARGED WITH MURDER.—Yesterday morning an inquest was held on the remains of William Harrigan, who died at St. Vincent's hospital Wednesday. Messrs. R. H. Forbes, J. D. King, Joseph Leonard, M. Brown and C. Smith were impaneled as a jury. Andrew Olsen, Wm. Fell, S. Parker and Jas. Walton, witnesses of the fight in which Harrigan was injured were subpœnaed and all told about the same story as has been before published. An autopsy was made by Dr. Wm. Jones, who rendered a written statement in which he expressed the opinion that the kick received by Harrigan was sufficiently injurious to cause death. The jury returned a verdict as follows: "Harrigan came to his death from a kick inflicted by a man whose name is supposed to be J. H. Wilson, whom we charge with murder." Harrigan's funeral will take place from DeLin's undertaking warerooms to-day at 2 o'clock. Wilson has not been arrested.

TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.—The State Temperance Alliance met at the M. E. church in Salem yesterday with a large attendance. The first business transacted, after addresses had been made by Rev. J. N. Denniston, Dr. L. L. Rowland, Rev. Mr. Berry, Rev. Dr. Jones and Mrs. A. S. Duniway, was the appointment of a committee on credentials, who made a long report. President Watts then read his annual report, which was adopted. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. J. W. Watts; 1st vice president, Rev. J. N. Denniston; 2d, Mrs. A. S. Duniway; 3d, Rev. D. T. Stanley; 4th, Jacob Conser; secretary, J. E. Houston; corresponding secretary, C. A. Sehlbrede; sergeant-at-arms, Hugh Harrison. The president and four vice presidents were chosen as an executive committee.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGE.—With reference to Mr. Villard's control of a majority of the stock of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co., Mr. C. H. Prescott, manager of the O. R. & N. Co., who returned from San Francisco Wednesday said to an OREGONIAN reporter that no important changes would be made for the present. On and after March 1st the freight and passenger business of the State of California will be transacted at the offices of the O. R. & N. Co. The Eureka will probably be taken off the Alaska route for repairs and her place supplied by the Idaho.

TURN VEREIN BALL.—The Turner's ball given at their hall last night was a decided success. Like all others given by them, it was well managed, with good music, and an enjoyable evening was spent by all present. The following is a list of prizes awarded: Miss Messner, "Old Maid," handsome toilet set; Geo. Parsons, "Fagin," gold headed cane; May Hastings, fancy dress, pair of statuettes; Harry Lisberg, "Clown," clock; Cristina Wagner, "Clowness," locket; Louis Wise, "Old Dutchman," set shirt studs.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.—Frank Booth was yesterday arraigned in the circuit court on two charges of forgery, and given Saturday in which to plead. Nicholas Angius was also arraigned on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and will be tried to-day. Charles Mayliew plead guilty to two indictments, for violating the liquor law, and will receive sentence Saturday.

MORE STEAMERS.—The Queen of the Pacific is expected to arrive here late in May. She will immediately be put on the Portland-San Francisco route, together with the Oregon, State of California and Columbia, and one steamer will leave each port every four instead of every five days. The City of Chester will continue on the route carrying combustibles.

TO SERVE SENTENCE.—John Bergman, who was sentenced to serve two years in the state prison from the circuit court for the burglary of a down town saloon, will be taken to Salem this afternoon.

TRUE BILLS FOUND.—Frank Carroll and Patrick Lynch who were arrested for assaulting Frank Meyers, a barkeeper, with intent to rob, were both indicted by the grand jury yesterday.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce a decision in this court this morning on the motions to extend the time for taking testimony and the production of papers.

TO SAIL EARLIER.—The Columbia is announced to leave for San Francisco at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, instead of at midnight, her schedule time.

BRIEF MENTION.

Multnomah Rod and Gun club hold a special meeting this evening.

Mr. John B. Coker, the letter carrier, is sick at home at 133 Morrison street.

Columbian engine company No. 3 were yesterday out of service on account of a broken hose carriage.

DEATH OF JOHN M. THOMPSON.

On Friday, the 10th inst., John M. Thompson, of Lane county, died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Stevens, near Prineville, Wasco county, of pneumonia and a complication of kindred complaints. His age was thirty-nine years. He had not been in good health for several years, having suffered from dyspepsia. He went to Eastern Oregon about two months ago with the hope of restoration to health. The remains were brought to this city last night, accompanied by his sorrowing family and by his brother, A. D. Thompson of Prineville.

Mr. Thompson was a native of Missouri and crossed the plains to Oregon with his parents in 1853, being then only 10 years old. He was a graduate of the old Columbia college of Eugene City, now extinct. In 1871, he married Miss Elizabeth Cooper, daughter of Mr. Geo. M. Cooper of Eugene, who, with three children, survive him. He began the practice of law about fifteen years ago, attaining more than local reputation. In 1878 he was elected to the legislature, and chosen speaker of the house, a position which he filled with marked ability. In 1880 he was returned to the legislature. He was the leader in the famous investigation of the irregularities of the Grover-Chadwick administration and did the state of Oregon great service. His was a strong, vigorous mind, and had he lived, he would have been a power in the state. In politics he was a democrat of the Jeffersonian type, but thoroughly independent. His life was pure, and he bequeaths to his children the inheritance of a spotless name.

Mr. R. S. Bean, representing the bar of Lane county, and Messrs. J. G. Gray and Geo. B. Dorris, representing Eugene City Lodge No. 11 A. F. & A. M., arrived here by yesterday afternoon's train and will take charge of the remains. The funeral will take place at Eugene Saturday.

SULLIVAN SPEAKS.

THE OREGONIAN'S San Francisco correspondent last night had an interview with Sullivan at the city jail, and telegraphed the following:

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Pete Sullivan, who is charged with complicity in the murder of Brown, arrived here to-day from Yolo county, in custody of the sheriff. Sullivan makes the following statement: I arrived in San Francisco on the last day of October, 1881, or the first day of November (Sunday). I registered at the Capital House. I went to Oakland that day with Geo. Edwards. I went to the marble works on Monday and saw Dan Dewyer and Kelley, who came on the Columbia from Portland in company with a young man from the Dalles, a telegraphic operator, now at Sacramento. I came to Woodland via Sacramento, about three days after my arrival in company with one Valentine Strumpf, now in Oakland. Registered as Chris Seibes. Carrie Bradley and Dotty Adams asked me to tell Brown to come to the house, that they wished to see him. He said he would not go. They then came into a saloon and invited myself, Brown and another young man to go with them to their house. We all went in company. I stayed an hour or two, when the other man and myself left and went up town, leaving Brown there with others, who came in in the meantime.

Sheriff Ralin states that he has examined the register at the Capital House and learns that Sullivan must have arrived here November 13th, if his story of his movements are correct. The prisoner stoutly disclaims any knowledge of the murder. He will be taken to Portland Saturday in company with Bradley and Mahone.

ANOTHER BLAST FROM BOREAS.

Something's the matter with the weather again. Another Euroclydon broke loose yesterday somewhere in Idaho or Montana, and came tearing down the Walla Walla valley through the pass in the Cascades and struck Portland about dark. The atmosphere was rather pleasant during the afternoon, but jee whillikins! it got cold after seven o'clock. The wind was sharp and biting, an inch of snow fell and the mercury went down to 29 before midnight. We had just as cold weather last month, but it did not come suddenly and take one's breath away. Weather bulletins to the O. R. & N. Co., given below, indicate a small sized hurricane along their line. Can it be possible that we are to have another freezeup as late as February 17th?

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

[Vancouver Independent.]

The people of Fort Cœur d'Alene find plenty of amusement on the ice on the lake.

Hospital Steward Herman Nebelsieck, at Fort Cœur d'Alene is to have a six months' furlough.

The work of dismantling the old Vancouver arsenal is proceeding rapidly, and the stores are being shipped at a lively rate.

Mr. Frank Inman, chief clerk in the quartermaster's department, is again at his post, having fully recovered from his severe illness.

Capt. Wm. G. Spencer, surgeon U. S. A., Fort Cœur d'Alene, has been granted one month's leave with permission to apply for five month's extension.

On the 1st of April, Maj. Eckels, paymaster, will change station from Fort Walla Walla to Vancouver. Paymaster Keefer will remove from the city to the garrison of Fort Walla Walla.

Two specimens of the carp family have been taken from the Spokane river by members of the 2d infantry, and are pronounced by some authorities as natives of those waters.

Dr. Abner Smead has been relieved from duty at this post and will shortly proceed to Camp Spokane for duty as assistant medical officer. Dr. Moffatt, now at Camp Spokane, will relieve Dr. Spencer at Fort Cœur d'Alene to enable him to take advantage of his leave of absence.

THE ORCHESTRAL CONCERT.

This morning the box sheet for the orchestral union concert at New Market Monday night will be opened at Prentice & Co.'s for those who are willing to pay twenty-five cents additional for choice reserved seats. That this new plan will quiet the dissatisfaction attending every sale where the demand is far in excess of the supply, is very doubtful. Still, the experiment is worth a trial. The directors decided yesterday afternoon to sell no more than six tickets to one applicant.

The concert will mark an epoch in the history of music in Portland. An orchestra composed of thirty-four musicians—many of them thoroughly educated in their profession, and all earnest in their work—under skillful leadership, playing choicest selections, is no everyday event in a city of only twenty thousand people, and it merits the encouragement promised. Mrs. Goodsell is down for two numbers. Her rich contralto voice is always welcome.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Marion Nealy, a young man living on the Luckiamute, in Polk county, was frozen to death under the following circumstances: Young Nealey, in company with two other parties, had been out hunting in the mountains on Monday, the snow being about three feet deep. The boys had walked around all day in search of game, and were nearly exhausted, but not desiring to camp in the mountains over night, they started for the valley. After they had wandered for a long time in the cold night air, with the snow above their knees, young Nealey became completely exhausted. At that time, which was near 1 o'clock in the morning, but one of the men was with him, and could not without help carry him out of the mountains, so he started in search of the third party to assist him. But when they returned, to their great surprise, young Nealy was frozen to death.

A NEAT ROBBERY

Which Proved Unavailing—An Oregonian in the Hands of a Confidence Man.

A suit of peculiar interest has just been tried before Judge Deady in the United States circuit court. On the 6th day of April last, Mr. S. P. Sleppy, a resident of Oregon for the last 30 years, arrived in this city and deposited $2000 of his savings in the First National bank. He then departed overland for St. Louis, and after spending a short time there proceeded to visit friends in Texas. While returning from St. Louis to San Antonio he was accosted by a young gentleman, possessed of all the winning ways of the traditional confidence man, who asked him where he was going. He stated that he was returning to Oregon. The young man then asked him if he knew any one in Walla Walla. Mr. Sleppy said he knew Messrs. Baker & Boyer, bankers there. His companion was delighted to hear it. He was a nephew of one of these gentlemen and was then on his way to visit his uncle, and proposed they should travel together, to which Mr. Sleppy consented. The young man stated that he was obliged to stop at St. Louis a few days and would overtake his new found friend at Kansas City, and asked him to give him his name, which Mr. Sleppy wrote in his companion's memorandum book. The young man then proposed to write a name in Sleppy's pass book, which was handed to him. The young man did not make his appearance in Kansas City and Mr. Sleppy pursued the journey alone, traveling by the Southern Pacific route. When he was nearly across the continent, his change becoming exhausted, he looked in his pocket-book for some greenbacks he had placed there and found them missing, as also was his certificate of deposit for $2000, evidently slipped from the book by the nice young man. He immediately telegraphed here to stop payment of the certificate, and on his arrival proceeded to the bank, where he found the certificate which had been sent for collection by the Bank of Commerce of St. Louis and which had his endorsement as also that of Charles Lee and George L. Howard. Sleppy's name was a skillfully executed forgery—made of course from his signature given to the swindle.

"The St. Louis bank had not advanced any money on the certificate and took it merely for collection, holding it as bailees. Sleppy began replevin suit possession of the certificate, and for interest from June 8, 1881, amounting to nearly $100. The bank here is quite willing to pay the certificate as soon as Sleppy has legal possession. Mr. E. W. Bingham, attorney for Sleppy, received notice from the St. Louis bank that the men who left the certificate for collection, when they learned that payment had been stopped, never again made their appearance, nor would they answer repeated notices sent, requesting their presence at the bank. Judge Deady took the case under advisement.

DEATH OF COL. A. B. MEACHAM.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

OF LAWS AND POLICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Late developments, here and elsewhere, suggest a few comments on these questions. The barons of England for themselves and the commons, exacted Magna Charta, whereby from arbitrary kingly power that could direct its judges to convict whomsoever it was displeased with, they secured a right of trial by jury and to be confronted with the witnesses against them. The constitution of the United States contains this same provision, and in Oregon the defendant must "meet the witnesses face to face." We had no cause to follow this English law. Our courts, if anything, are too lenient. No tyrant power stands behind them, like a sanguinary throne, and our "bulwark" inheritance is becoming a nuisance to us. In this country it works to give criminals every advantage over good citizens. The state cannot convict a murderer unless the witness, if there were one, of his deed can be brought face to face with him on the trial, so that if he or his pals can kill or spirit away the witness he escapes, and many are the lives of witnesses that have thus been lost in the different states of this republic. And further, not a step can be taken in court without the presence of the prisoner, though like Guiteau he may act the fool generally indefinitely. Now wouldn't it be better for legislatures to effect a slight change in this respect by changing our British constitution so as to suit our republican necessities; and then conduct our court proceedings in a rational manner, by legal enactments giving the judges power to enforce order and decorum, or to remove the prisoner and proceed with the trial. And in the case of witnesses, let the legislature provide by law for the taking of the testimony of witnesses at the preliminary stage, in a solemn and open manner, and that in case the witnesses were afterward killed or removed by the defendant directly or indirectly, the testimony so taken should be used instead thereof. This step would protect witnesses who are unfortunate enough to become necessary to the state for the purposes of justice.

In regard to our police. The people of Portland have two systems of justice; the state, with its now most effective prosecutorship and its sheriff and constabulary system; and its city police. There is room and work for all. Several murders have remained undetected, and it is to be hoped that no petty jealousy will be permitted to be worked up between the forces, so that one will put a brake upon the wheels of the other. A detective is the work of nature. Sometimes the faculty is found in whole families, like the Pinkertons. The smallest clue is to them a thread; they can seize it and follow it back to the place of guilt. A man may be a good executive head of a police force and still not be able to thread back on a small clue.

At any rate the people have an interest in this thing that is of more importance than the rise or fall of any one man or system. If Simmons shows a talent for the detection of crime there is room for him to run under the state system, and Chief Lappeus should put forward some competitor from his force to beat the constable in bringing crime to light, and not attempt to suppress him.

This is the people's interest; and another thing is worthy of observation under our system of prosecution for crimes. The public prosecutor must be a first class natural detective and reader of character as well as a good lawyer and orator, or criminals will escape. In fact to prevent much crime the criminal class need to feel and know that they can't hire any lawyer or team of lawyers that can beat the state's force, and that if they commit crime they have got to go up for it. A Cap(ab)le prosecutorship does away with any need of Judge Lynch, and leaves all cases safely to Judge Stott. But let detectives work untrammeled. Yours, etc.,

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 17, 1882.

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

The O. R. & N. Co's new ice house at The Dalles has been completed and 324 tons of ice is stored therein.

The treasurer of Wasco county shipped to Salem by Wells, Fargo & Co. last week, $17,716 60, the amount of taxes due the state on the last levy.

Col. Wheeler, an eastern cattle and stock dealer, recently purchased the horse brand of Thomas Gordon, of Wasco county, for the sum of $14,000. Mr. Gordon still retains his interest in sheep, cattle and ranch. He has been a resident of that county since 18[illegible].

The new pile-driver which has been in course of construction for some time at The Dalles car shops, is at last completed. It is placed on a truck, so that it can be taken to any part on the track, and will be used in repairing bridges. It is so constructed as to work on a pivot on the flat-car, and can be turned in any direction desired.

Dalles Times: On Tuesday morning of last week, Mrs. W. H. Vanbibber met with a very painful and serious accident. The lady had started in a buggy from her home—about three miles west of The Dalles—for the purpose of tending the morning service. Some time afterward she came home, walking and carrying the buggy robe. She was bruised around the face, but could give no intelligent account of what had happened. On being asked where the horse and buggy was, she made no definite answer, but from her language and actions it was feared that she had been seriously injured around the head. Medical aid was summoned, but nothing could be ascertained of the manner of the accident. She continued in a semi-intelligent condition for some days, and it was feared that she was fatally hurt, but we learn that she has so far recovered as to regain her presence of mind, but has no recollection of anything concerning the accident, except that the traces came lose, from which time she appears to be unconscious of everything until she arrived at home. At last accounts she was much improved, and strong hopes are entertained of her complete recovery.

Washington Territory.

Sixty tons of machinery for the flouring mill of Morris Bros., Sargent and Kinney, at Dayton, will arrive the last of the week.

Coy and Hicinbotham, principals in the shooting scrape at Columbus, last week, after preliminary hearing, were each bound over to appear at the May term of the court for Klickitat county, the former in $500 and the latter $1000 bonds.

The new town of Endicott, in Whitman county, has been laid off in blocks, lots and streets, and a handsome map of the place is being finished. Gen. Tannatt states that he has the blacksmith shop up and in running order, the boarding house nearly done and work commenced on a building 38x60 feet, the ground floor to be used as a store and the up stairs for offices, etc.

Thos. Johnson, of Goldendale, goes in a few days to take charge of the work of driving down the Yakima river logs and ties for the railroad company. He will forward supplies immediately, and establish a camp on the Yakima, about forty miles above Ellensburg. He will employ about 100 men, and expects to drive down for the use of the company about 250,000 ties and 9,000,000 feet of lumber.

Idaho.

The Boise and Wood river stage road is in fair condition for travel, stages passing over it both ways daily, but there is very deep snow in some places. The road has been staked for 75 miles as the loose snow drifts just enough to obliterate the sleigh tracks.

A man well-known in the mountains as "Sixty," in company with Andy Covert, started out from Ketchum three weeks ago on snow-shoes to relocate a claim on Lost river. Nothing was heard from them until a few days since when "Sixty" reached Hailey with both feet and hands badly frozen. He had traveled two days without food, and made 50 miles the last day and night. The thermometer marked 18 deg. below zero on his arrival.

BENTON COUNTY NEWS.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

CORVALLIS, Feb. 15.

The annual election of the Corvallis fire department will be held on the 11th of March.

Mr. M. L. Noftsger, formerly of Monmouth college, has accepted a position in the editorial department of the Gazette.

The friends of Hon. John Burnett of this city, are using his name in connection with the democratic nomination for congress.

The ladies of the M. E. church, under management of Mrs. S. L. Shedd, gave a sociable at the church last Friday evening. Everyone present enjoyed it.

Rev. B. E. Habersham of Portland, who has occupied the pulpit of the Corvallis Episcopal church twice a month during the past season, has resigned that charge.

Mr. James Hughes of Walla Walla, on last Wednesday purchased the John Rowland farm of 610 acres lying three and one-half miles south of town, for which he paid $14,600.

Messrs. J. W. Brassfield and James Call, business men of Newport, were in town this week. They report the breakwater in good condition, the storms of winter having so far failed to damage it.

Notwithstanding bad weather, much work has been done on the Oregon Pacific Railroad during the winter. In the timber department five sawmills have been running on full time getting out ties and bridge material, and another will be added as soon as the roads will permit of its being moved to a suitable location.

A Menace to the Northwest.

Pacific Christian Advocate.

We cannot but look upon the attempt now being made by rival railroad interests to force through congress some kind of a bill declaring a forfeiture of the Northern Pacific land grant as a fearful menace to the prosperity of this great northwest. During the years that that company were apparently making no effort to build their road we did not wonder at the prevalence of such a sentiment. Even then it was more a sentimental than a practical question, because the most of the grant was as useless to the settler as to the company unless the road was built. Now it is different. The road is being built as fast as money and men can build it. From our outside view this road is the only deliverance of the Pacific northwest from the grip of a power that has held us for all our past history. This road done and we swing loose at once from that grasp. We do not suppose that the Northern Pacific company will give their road or their service to the people for nothing, but we do suppose that company will deal as generously as anybody who is able to build the road would. We suppose that it is the land grant that enables them to build the road, and it seems to us that there ought to be but one voice with the people and press of this coast on this question. We understand the pretended ground of this opposition, but unquestionably the real ground, is that rival corporations dread the time when the last spike of the Northern Pacific is driven. They will delay and prevent it if they can; we should encourage and help its speedy coming.

Logan's Ambition.

A Washington correspondent telegraphs under date of February 12th: I was talking with a prominent southern republican to-day, and among other interesting things, he said: "Do you know that Logan is working for the next presidential nomination?" I replied that I had heard something about it, and my informant continued: "The movement commenced soon after Garfield's inauguration, and the general has based his claims on two things. First, the fact that he had reached the highest rank in the army of any volunteer soldier, and second, that in 1884 the northwest would demand the nomination. It is Logan for president and Raum for senator. They look for great strength in the south in 1884 through the power of Raum's present position. Quite a little contest occurred in the sixth North Carolina district recently over the appointment of a collector of internal revenue. A large number of prominent republicans of that state asked for the appointment of a straight out-and-out republican. Raum would not listen to their request, but put in a man who had been one of John Sherman's tools and would be equally pliable in his hands."

Remarks similar to this are frequently heard, particularly from republicans from the south, where it would seem that General Logan is at this time making his greatest effort. His candidacy is frequently spoken of among republicans of national reputation, but in a manner which leads one to infer that it is not one looked on as anything of sufficient importance to require particular attention.

Washington advices say there seems to be a growing impression there among the political leaders from the different sections of the country that there will be three tickets in the field in 1884—that Mr. Arthur will represent the stalwarts, Mr. Blaine the independent republicans, and a straightout democrat at the head of that ticket. Mr. Blaine has hopes for the south and far west. His friends say he will be strong in Indiana also. The friends of General Grant say, however, that the "man on horseback" will fix the south for Mr. Arthur in any event. Grant will not be a candidate. Some think that the liberal democratic element of the south will take up Mr. Blaine; but on the other hand these republicans who predict thus threatened to kill him in the south on the Andersonville speech he made in 1876. With a division among the republicans the campaign will be very warm. The work of the New York legislature shows that there is a deep and yawning chasm between the two republican factions in that state, so the fight will involve the east as well as the south.

The Dearest Port in the World.

San Francisco Alta.

If San Francisco has come to be known abroad, among shipmasters and owners, as the dearest port in the world, it must be admitted, however repugnant to our pride and disastrous to our prospects, that the reputation, though damaging, is well merited. We may blush for what we cannot deny, but if the rapacious horde who fatten upon our commerce are to be got rid of, mere blushing will not do it. Their practices must be shown up and denounced unsparingly until even their callous consciences cry, "Hold—enough!"

Premier and Editor.

New York Star.

Gambetta has again become an editor, resuming his former chair at the office of the Republique Francaise. If he only knew it, this is a higher position than the premiership, which he struggled for so long and held so briefly. An editor can always make premiers; but it takes an exceptional premier to make an editor.

President Taylor, of the Mormon church, recently married his twenty-eighth wife, a buxom Massachusetts widow. Four days after the wedding she raised a terrible rumpus in the presidential mansion, and clubbed three or four of her associate wives with a broomstick. Her husband interfered and got a taste of her temper himself. She has proven to be unsusceptible to discipline, and President Taylor has sent her to San Francisco.

ENGLISH MARKETS.

The Mark Lane Express in its review of British grain for the week ending last Saturday says: Spring sowings are progressing favorably. Growing crops continue satisfactory and the position is promising. Trade is restricted and all except the best samples are cheaper. There was active inquiry for seed, specially for spring corn, but the consumptive demand is slow. Foreign was remarkably quiet throughout the week and the demand is very small. The supply is ample. A concession of 6d to 1s on Friday was insufficient to induce buyers. Off coast market inanimate. Fourteen cargoes arrived, of which four were sold. Floating bulk considerably increased. Forward trade dull and rates generally lower. Maize everywhere weak and demand nominal. Barley unchanged, with slack demand. Oats unchanged for old, but common rates cheaper. Sales of English wheat during the week, 45,152 quarters at 46s 5d per quarter, against 36,000 quarters at 47s 3d per quarter for the corresponding week of last year.

Portland Produce Market.

Flour is very steady and in good demand. Walla Walla flour, in 100-pound sacks, sells readily to exporters. We quote oats 2c per bushel higher than last week. Advices from California still report dry weather, and under this influence further advance in oats may be expected. Barley is very scarce and wanted, but prices remain unchanged. Baled timothy hay is also very scarce and is wanted. Mill feed is unchanged. Bran is scarce. The present supply does not meet the demand. There is no new feature in cured meats. Lard is very firm. Choice lard in kegs is scarce and wanted. There is nothing new to note in dried fruit. Good Plummer dried apples sell readily for 9c. Dried plums are very dull sale. Hops are firm. Advices from San Francisco are very favorable, and Oregon holders are more confident. Hides are unchanged. Owing to the very limited supply in California and slight receipts here, butter has again advanced. If the prevailing dry weather there continues, a further advance may be expected. The demand for onions is very good. It is, however, limited to home consumption. Hens during the past week have been on a strike and succeeded in getting 2½c advance on eggs. The receipts have been large and there is certain to be a decline. Cheese is very firm, and the stocks will soon be exhausted. Apples continue extremely scarce, and the market reporter is not regaled by the commission men as of yore. Peas are about out of the market. Owing to the Chinese festival chickens have advanced. Columbia river salmon in kegs is very scarce. Potatoes have also advanced. Shingles are lower and there is little or no demand. Comb honey is cheaper. Wool is weaker and seeds are quiet. NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The freight market via Cape Horn has been less active than was anticipated it would be after the unfavorable weather of the past week, but there is still a fair amount of goods going forward, although chiefly of heavy freight. The ships Arabia and David Crockett will both finish loading to-morrow. Shipments as noted are chiefly of heavy goods, although there is a fair amount of medium freight in the market, with a prospect of further increase, as it is announced that the Standard oil company are about to renew shipments by this route on a large scale. Rates are very firm at an advance of fifty cents per ton on last quotations. Tonnage is scarce and held at full figures, as there is a demand for oil vessels to the far east. The latest charters are ships Sachem to load at this port with general cargo for San Francisco; ship Robert Dixon with railroad iron and general cargo to Portland in VanVleck's line, and the bark Arcturus with general cargo from Boston in VanVleck's line.

Isthmus freights have again quieted down, and there is very little offering by this route.

The movement in general markets is rather moderate, except in a few instances where there has been some activity. Wheat has shown an irregular decline of 1½@3c, with a fair demand from exporters on which the market has improved in tone.

The recent large decline has enabled exporters to overcome adverse shipping margins, so as to permit execution of foreign orders.

Barley—Dull and nominal.

Provisions—Dull.

Rio coffee—Quiet and very firm.

Refined sugars—Slow, and prices easier.

Hides—Fair demand. Sales of 1862 California at 23c for 30 days.

Turpentine—Quiet and firm.

Petroleum—Steady.

Crude and sperm oil—Active at an advance. Sales 1000 bbls at $1 08; now held at $1 10.

Whale oil—Active. Sales of 500 bbls south seas private.

Gold and Stock Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.

Receipts—Wheat, 11,500 ctls; flour, 3300 qr sks; potatoes, 750 sacks; eggs, 11,000 doz.

Wheat—Market is weak and dull. Among sales yesterday afternoon were 1500 sks No. 1 shipping, $1 65; 1500 sks choice Sonoma, $1 62½. No transactions reported to-day. There were few buyers in the market. We quote No. 1 shipping $1 62½@1 65.

Barley—Market is quiet with tendency to more ease. Offerings are larger and buyers are holding off. Good coast feed offered at $1 80; quote feed, $1 75a1 82½.

Oats—Market very quiet; sales of poor Washington at $1 75; quote good Oregon, $1 80@1 85.

Potatoes—The demand is fair; market is well supplied; quote Petaluma and Tomales, $1 75@1 85; Humboldt red, $1 80@1 90.

Grain Bags—Standard—Market is steadier; spot lots quotable, 8¾@9c; May and June, 9¼@9½c.

Hides—No change to note in quotations.

Eggs—Fresh Cals., 22a23c; offerings are liberal.

Butter—Fresh Roll—Stocks are reduced, quote at 32½a33½c; sales of extra choice qualities, 34c.

CHARTERED.

Br bk Flora, to Cork, U. K., 56s; Fr bk Oceanic, to continental port, private.

Freights—The market is very weak. In the present unsettled condition of the market no one is willing to take up vessels except at concessions.

King of the Blood

Is not a "cure all;" it is a blood-purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, Impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists. $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Established in 1854, for the treatment of sexual and Seminal diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, and Lost Manhood, can positively be cured. The sick and afflicted should not fail to call upon him. The Doctor has traveled extensively in Europe, and inspected thoroughly the various hospitals there, obtaining a great deal of valuable information, which he is competent to impart those in need of his services. DR. GIBBON will make no charge unless he effects a cure. Persons at a distance may be cured at home. All communications strictly confidential. Send $10 for a package of medicine. You see no one but the Doctor. Persons writing to the Doctor will please state the name of the paper they seen this advertisement in. Charges reasonable. Call or write. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, Box 1957, San Francisco. jy6dly
